V. Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims	1-14	YES
	Claims		NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims	1-14	YES
	Claims		NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1-14	YES
	Claims		NO

2. Citations and explanations

1. Closest prior art: US-B1-6173958 (DINC et al.)

2. Said document discloses:

A sealing arrangement as per the preamble of claim 1 (see figure 12 and column 7, lines 31-34), from which the subject matter of independent claim 1 differs in that:

the first sealing device has a metal piston ring seal with a dividing point.

The subject matter of claim 1 is therefore novel (PCT Article 33(2)).

3. US-B1-6173958 provides no incentive to a person skilled in the art to substitute a separate piston ring seal for the radial shoulder in such a seal arrangement.

This design renders complex machining of the shaft redundant. The sealing arrangement as per claim 1 is a cost-effective solution to the problem of compensating for variations in the gap to be sealed.

The sealing arrangement as per claim 1 therefore involves an inventive step (PCT Article 33(3)).

4. The subject matter of claim 1 can be made and used and is therefore also industrially applicable (PCT Article 33(4)).
5. Dependent claims 2-14 contain advantageous and non-obvious embodiments of a sealing arrangement according to claim 1. Therefore, claims 2-14 likewise meet the requirements for novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability according to PCT Article 33(2) to (4).
